REVOLUTIONARY SUCCESS.

The Venezuelan Insurgents Steadily Gaining Ground Against Palacio.

Prospects of the Total Collapse of the Panama Canal Company's Enterprise.

Legitime's Partizans Preparing for a New Revolution in the Haytian Republic.

MARACAYBO, Venezuela, April 26.—The Federalists have fought another battle with Government troops and again scored a victory. The fight occurred on the plains near Valencia, and this exactly suited the Federalists, the majority of whom are lancers who are most to be feared when afforded an opportunity to display their horsemanship. The details of losses on both sides have not yet been received here, but the encounter is said to have been accompanied by the usual number of desertions from Palacio's ranks to those of the enemy. The rout of the Government forces near Paolitis the other day has further strengthened the cause of the revolutionists, and reports reach this city of the spread of the rebellion in both the eastern and western states. Day by day the uprising is assuming a most serious aspect, and the opponents of Palacio are slowly but surely drawing closer and closer toward the capital. The government will have to make a determined effort to stop the progress of Crespo's followers or will have to face a serious insurrection in Caraccas itself. The capital is in a greater state of alarm at present than at any time since the rebellion began. Foes of the administration are growing bolder in denunciation of its acts. Palacio is well aware of the perils of the situation. His officials continue to send out glowing accounts of the restoration of peace throughout the Republic, but the news continues to be discouraging. It is pretty safe to say, should Crespo and his combined armies, which are said to number about 10,000 men, ever fight their way across the state of Carababo, Palacio will promptly attempt to put into execution his well planned flight out of the Republic.

The War in the Cattle Country.

BLACKFOOT, Idaho, April 26.—Information has just been received that a party of cattlemen from Wyoming hunting cattle thieves in Johnson Hole, the alleged rendezvous for all horse and cattle thieves for hundreds of miles, came upon the habitation of two men known as Burnett and Spencer, and in their efforts to arrest them both Burnett and Spencer were killed. It was found that they were in possession of over fifty stolen horses.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 26.—The leaders of the regulators were in consultation with their lawyers to-day. After the interview was over the captives were not in the best spirits. They all believe that they will be acquitted of the charges of murder, treason, and arson which will be preferred against them, but now have to admit that their freedom will not come in two weeks, as they boasted. They talk of an all summer's siege with the civil authorities. Reports from Buffalo would seem to indicate that Sheriff Angus and Jack Flagg and their sympathisers are running things with a high hand. The foreman of the Echo has been warned not to run his press, and acting Editor St. Claire was brutally assaulted by Flagg yesterday. The same report says the rustlers having notes due at banks have forced the renewal of them at the muzzle of revolvers.

The Black Republic's Revolution.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, April 26.—Steamships arriving here within the past few days from Hayti report that rumors of a revolution are again rife in the black republic. President Hippolyte is said to be fully aware of the threatening state of affairs and is firmly determined to stamp out the first spark of rebellion. For a long time there has been talk of an uprising among the Haytian leaders whom Hippolyte has expelled. It is said now on the best authority that a rebellion will shortly occur. Legitime has lately come into the possession of a large amount of money, and will freely expend it to gratify his ambition and revenge. His agents are reported to be actively engaged in securing arms and ammunition, enlisting men and fitting out war vessels. The Haytian government is maintaining a close watch, and its soldiers are ready for any emergency. In Port au Prince 4000 troops are stationed and 2000 extra men were recently drafted from the north. Haytian exiles here make no secret of a belief that an uprising is near.

The Wrecked Tahiti.

SAN DIEGO, April 26.—The Pacific Mail steamer San Blas has arrived from Panama. Capt. McLaren reports that he saw the cruiser Boston at Mazatlan, and in conversation with her chief officer learned that the warship had found no trace of the wrecked Tahiti or alleged survivors, although the officer was reticent and intimated that he might have some information to give out when he arrives. The cruiser was to leave two days later for San Diego. She has no orders other than to proceed slowly up the coast, and would probably remain in San Diego for some time. The weather was reported very hot and disagreeable in the south, but everything is all quiet politically. The coffee crop is nearly all gathered; times are good and money is plentiful.

The Panama Canal Enterprise.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The Panama canal enterprise is threatened with total collapse, the government having removed the chain across the channel's entrance to the canal which the canal company had placed there to prevent traffic. The company has now chained the canal itself. This will stop produce and timber rafts descending to the port. High government officials state that the canal people having sold a portion of their machinery in violation of the concessions, the government will probably annul the contract in protection of the industries.

An Editor Honored.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 26.—Governor Markham to-day tendered the appointment of a delegate to the National Nicaragua Canal convention to be held at St. Louis on June 2nd to Hon. J. D. Lynch, editor of the Herald of this city. Mr. Lynch has accepted.

FROM NEW WESTMINSTER.

An Insane Man's Break for Liberty—American Burglars in the City.

NEW WESTMINSTER, April 26.—Thos. Whiting, aged 21, who resides with his brother, George Whiting, at Burnaby Lake, is incarcerated in the city lock-up as an insane person. Whiting was brought before Magistrate Atkinson this morning and during his examination made a break for liberty. He knocked down officer Smith and reached the open air. His brother and Smith gave chase and captured him a hundred yards off. He was safely locked up and ordered to be examined by medical men.

Henry Mace and Frank Dandy, who were accused of burglarizing a hardware store at Blaine, have been seen in Westminster. They are said to be fishing at the mouth of the Fraser.

VANCOUVER NEWS.

Another Strike in the Terminal City—Depraved Hoodlums.

VANCOUVER, April 26.—The carpenters working on the new post office building have struck for nine hours.

The Moodyville mill has started running.

Jacob Wurst came within an ace of being killed by an infuriated bull yesterday in the slaughter house. He was gored in the groin, but was rescued half dead.

D. Coverly's store on Mount Pleasant was destroyed by fire last night. Loss about $1200.

A young girl about 15 years old was enticed away from her home by young men, but afterwards rescued by the police. They were found in a livery stable and the girl was put in charge of Miss Bowes, who will take her to the refuge home, Victoria. The case is one of unusual moral depravity.

Steamer Iona came in yesterday with 20,000 pounds of halibut.

A fire hall will be placed on Mount Pleasant.

The question of foreshore rights came up last night at the council meeting in reference to the removal of shacks, which has been ordered. Some aldermen objected to the city police having anything to do with it. The city solicitor explained that the Dominion Government ordered it and the city had no responsibility, but the police might be called in to enforce order.

Several leading loggers met yesterday and decided to raise the price of logs.

The council has petitioned the government for a free mail delivery.

A deputation of underwriters from Vancouver and Westminster left this afternoon on the Islander for Victoria.

NANAIMO NEWS.

The Conspiracy Case to be Heard—Highwaymen and Whiskey.

NANAIMO, April 26.—The trial of the whiskey pedlars yesterday before Judge Harrison drew a large concourse of people to the court house to hear the evidence. Some of the defendants set up a plea of "not guilty" but after a certain amount of evidence had been given they changed their minds and pleaded "guilty." Supt. Hussey conducted the prosecution and the fines imposed were very heavy. Labarre was fined $200, Bernard $175, J. Belzano $175 and the remainder $150 and costs amounting to $3. Fines in the first three cases to be levied by distress and in default of payment three months' imprisonment.

FLEET FOOTED.

Now that the detectives have accomplished the simple task of trapping the whiskey peddlars they will have an opportunity to hunt for higher game in the form of the highwaymen who have infested Wellington and its environments for the past few months. Only on last Saturday night an attempt was made to hold up Fred Peck, the runner, but when called upon to stand he took to his heels and made, according to his statement, the fastest time on record. Something should be done in the matter and it will be a good chance for the detectives to do something clever.

ODDFELLOWS' CELEBRATION.

Owing to the death of Mrs. G. E. Williams the dedication of the new Oddfellows' Hall, which was to have taken place this afternoon, has been postponed until to-morrow. The steamer City of Nanaimo brought down a large excursion party from Comox yesterday to attend the dedication, which promises to be a very interesting affair. The Wellington brass band will head the procession, and in the evening a grand ball and supper will be given.

THE CONSPIRACY CHARGES.

The witnesses in the conspiracy cases, Regina vs. Tully Boyce, Thos. Keith, M.P.P., and Arthur Wilson, were served with summonses to appear at the assizes in Victoria at 10 o'clock Monday morning, May 16th. Summonses were also served on all witnesses in the case of Vipond, to be heard at Victoria.

Big Wages or a Strike.

SCRANTON, Pa., April 24.—A committee from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, representing the employes of the Lackawanna system, called upon General Manager Manning Halstead, demanding, among other things, a big advance in wages, which, if not granted, will, they say, cause a strike.

THE PARIS ANARCHISTS.

Dynamite Used to Destroy the Man Who Delivered Ravachol Into Custody.

Bitter Warfare Waged by the Catholic and Protestant Parties in Uganda.

Dahomeyan Operations Against the French—Cardinal Manning's Successor.

PARIS, April 26.—The restaurant of M. Very, who on March 30th delivered Ravachol, the anarchist, into the hands of the police, was utterly wrecked today by a bomb explosion. The police on entering found Very lying on the floor in the midst of heaps of debris. One of his legs was broken and had to be amputated. The granddaughter of Very was also injured, and two ladies living over the restaurant were badly shaken and bruised. Very's wife was not injured, but she lost her senses owing to the shock which she suffered and is raving. At 10:30 the firemen were clearing away the ruins. Fortunately the damage done is almost entirely confined to the building in which the restaurant is located. It is the general opinion that the explosion was perpetrated mainly to terrorize the jurymen who will be on duty at Ravachol's trial. Three persons were arrested. One of them shouted "Vive l'anarchie" on being taken into custody. The news of the explosion quickly spread throughout the city and created consternation, especially on the Boulevards, where exaggerated reports of the affair were current. Very died at the hospital after the amputation of his leg.

L'Eclair publishes the text of the anarchist proclamation which was secretly printed with the view of influencing the municipal elections which are to be held on May 1. It is a violent manifesto, advocating neutrality in the elections, which are denounced as a bourgeois farce. "Remember," the manifesto says; "by going to the polls, you imitate sheep going to the shambles. Be men. Learn to do without rulers and governments—that is to say, masters and oppressors. Then, and then only, on the ruins of a horrible and monstrous past, whose sole basis and rule is an idiotic struggle for existence, you may lay the foundation of an organization of the future, resting entirely on an agreement for a free, harmonious and integral life. The principles of equality, liberty and justice will then no longer be vain formulæ, and by anarchy, without God or master, all may freely produce according to their strength, while amply consuming according to their wants." It further urges the working people to seize the workshops, factories, warehouses and commence a social revolution.

L'Eclair also publishes a letter, signed by a number of Ravachol's friends, addressed to the jurors who will sit in the case. The letter appeals to the jurors to reserve an impartial fairness and declares that Ravachol's acts of vengeance were justified by the criminal attitude of Judge Benoit and public prosecutor Bulot at the trial of the Clichy anarchists.

ROME, April 26.—The reports put in circulation that disturbances had occurred yesterday in this city and were likely to be renewed, and that in consequence of the gravity of the situation the authorities have been barricading the houses of government officers and public buildings, proves upon a thorough investigation to be pure invention. There has been no trouble whatever and none of the extreme precautions alleged to have been taken are visible on the closest scrutiny. Socialists are showing no signs of preparing for violent manifestations against the government, and everything points to a peaceful observance of May day.

Cardinal Manning's Successor.

LONDON, April 24.—Elaborate preparations are in progress for the enthronement of Bishop Vaughan as archbishop of Westminster to succeed the late Cardinal Manning in that office. The ceremonies will take place May 8, and the scenes of pomp and splendor then witnessed will probably exceed any of the kind since England became a protestant country.

The annual meeting of the Roman Catholic bishops in England would in the ordinary course have taken place in London to-morrow, but has been postponed until the above date in order to enable all the higher clergy to assist in the great ceremony of installing the archbishop, which will take place at the pro-cathedral in Kensington.

On May 10 Archbishop Vaughan will hold a reception in honor of the bishops, clergy and lay delegates, who will be assembled at the annual meeting.

Edward Deacon's Trial.

CANNES, April 25.—The trial of Edward Parker Deacon, for the killing of M. Abeille, who was discovered by Deacon in the room of Mrs. Deacon at Grasse, is fixed to begin on May 20th. It is stated the family of Abeille will not be present in the capacity of plaintiff, the right they have under the French law, but that Clemenceau will watch the proceedings and will probably speak in their behalf. It is regarded certain that Mrs. Deacon will not be present, and it is said, in order to avoid testifying, she will produce a medical certificate stating that it will be impossible to attend.

Religious Strife in East Africa.

LONDON, April 26.—The Standard's Zanzibar correspondent confirms the recently published story about fighting in Uganda, East Africa, between Protestant natives and Catholic converts led by King Mwanga. The Protestants, he says, were well armed with Snider rifles, and were victorious until Capt. Lugard, the British Africa Company's receiver, arrived with reinforcements, armed with Maix rifles. There were heavy casualties on both sides. The correspondent also says Bishop Heath reports that many Catholics have been sold into slavery. He states as well that Catholics are massing forces to renew the attack on Protestants.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Postponement of the Introduction of the Redistribution Bill.

OTTAWA, April 26.—Sir John Thompson in the House to-day said the redistribution bill would not be introduced until Thursday. The modus vivendi bill, granting fishing licenses to United States vessels, was reported. The difficulty over its passage is owing to the Government taking power to itself to issue these licenses without coming each year to Parliament to get power to do so.

Behring Sea in the Commons.

LONDON, April 25.—The House of Commons resumed its session to-day upon the expiration of the date of adjournment for the Easter holidays. In reply to a question by James Bryce, J. E. Lowther, parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, stated that a complete accord had been arrived at with the United States regarding the Behring Sea modus vivendi. The convention, he said, had been signed at Washington, but the terms had not yet reached England. Lowther added that the government was taking steps to consult Canada in regard to the persons by whom Canada wishes to be represented in the arbitration. The names of the British arbitrators have not yet been decided upon.

Amnesty for Irish Prisoners.

CORK, April 24.—The Mayor of Cork presided to-day over a big meeting of Parnellites to demand amnesty for the Irish political prisoners. Resolutions were adopted demanding that the government release these prisoners, and urging the Irishmen in America to bring this question strongly before the candidates for president at the coming election, with a view to obtaining every personal supporter for the movement. The Healyites boycotted the meeting.

Henry Irving Loses His Voice.

LONDON, April 26.—Henry Irving is very ill. He has partially lost his voice, and since Thursday night has not appeared on the stage at the Lyceum theatre. He has gone to Hastings for a change of air, and may possibly reappear at the Saturday matinee. When "Macbeth" was running at the Lyceum two years ago Mr. Irving suddenly lost his voice in a similar way.

The War in Dahomey.

PARIS, April 26.—Advices from the Benin settlements are that the Dahomeyans are approaching nearer Porto Novo and an attack is imminent. In addition the hostile bands are going into camp outside of Kotonou and Zaboue.

Railway Magnate Dead.

LONDON, April 26.—Sir James Joseph Alleport, chairman of the Midland Railway Company, is dead, aged 81 years.

News From Alaska.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The schooner Frances Alice, which arrived last evening, brings the first news since the beginning of last winter from the Kodiak district in Alaska. The Alice left here on the 9th of last February for Cook's inlet with a party of miners for Coal Bay, and arrived in the inlet 18 days later. The weather was very bad at that time, and everyone very sick. The miners and their supplies were landed, however, with but little delay. Not much progress had been made at the mines during the winter owing to its severity, and only a couple of hundred tons of coal had been taken out. Several of the buildings at the mines had suffered and two had been totally destroyed. February and March brought the worst weather of the year in the Kodiak district, snow storms prevailing, with the thermometer from 4 to 10 degrees above zero. The Alice was greatly delayed in going from Cook's inlet to Apognek, owing to ice floes. At Karluk, which is an open port, the schooner had to put to sea on three different occasions while loading her cargo of salted and canned salmon. At one time the vessel narrowly escaped being crushed like an egg shell between two icebergs. When the weather moderated the cargo was loaded by means of lighters. No coal was brought down. The sea otter schooner, 76, owned by Liebes of this city, is reported with only one skin. The schooner started from Karluk last November, but was caught in the ice and did not reach Saldovin, about 100 miles distant, until February. The schooners on Cook inlet are reported as having run very short of supplies during the past winter and the arrival of some of the cannery fleet was eagerly looked for.

"Prince Michael's" Prosecution.

DETROIT, Mich., April 24.—At a mass meeting of the North Side residents tonight a resolution condemning Prince Michael and his followers for their immorality and declaring it the duty of every citizen to discourage the settlement in their midst of "such lazy, thriftless, sensual people," was adopted. A committee was appointed to raise a fund for the furthering of the prosecution of Prince Michael and his "spiritual wife."

Tacoma Civic Salaries.

TACOMA, April 24.—One alleged reason for tabling Mayor Huson's board of public works appointments last night is that the new council proposes to pass an ordinance reducing the salaries of the board, and wish to do it before the appointments are made, otherwise the appointments cannot be made. The salary of the members of the board is now $3000 a year. The Democratic platform also favored retrenchment.

Flour Made From Bananas.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The Bureau of American Republics is informed that in several places in Central America flour is now being made from bananas, which under chemical analysis is found to contain more nutriment than rice.

CANADIAN NOTES.

News by Mail and Wire From All Parts of the Dominion.

The East York election comes off on May 11th.

William and Edgar Gannon, aged 8 and 11 respectively, were drowned in the River Richelieu, at St. John's, by the upsetting of a boat.

W. F. Audet, ex-member of the Quebec Legislature for Dorchester, has been appointed Legislative councillor for the Lauzon division.

It has been decided to commemorate the date of the proclamation of the constitution of the Province of Upper Canada at Niagara on July 16.

The death is announced from Texas of Alexauder McGregor, whose name was prominently associated with the early history of Stratford.

Mr. Roblin, leader of the Opposition in the Manitoba Legislature, has been nominated as a candidate for Morden. T. H. Kellett is the Conservative candidate in Deloraine.

It is reported that Mr. Mercier has received a dispatch from Quebec stating that he need not appear before Judge Bosse on the 28th inst., and that all proceedings are likely to be abandoned.

S. T. Martin, of Montreal, of the firm of Austin, Robertson & Co., wholesale stationers, died suddenly Sunday night. Austin was a very popular citizen and well known throughout the Dominion.

John McGillivray, a pioneer of Simcoe county, is dead. He was the father of Rev. Malcolm McGillivray of Chalmers church, Kingston, and Prof. McGillivray of Queen's University, Kingston.

The Toronto civic deputation which went to the States to gather information regarding the trolley and storage batteries system as regards street cars, has returned, divided in opinion as to which is the better system.

At a meeting of sheep-breeders from all over the Dominion, held in London on Saturday, it was decided to organize a new and independent association, with the aim of establishing a Domin-Sheep Record, which will be recognized everywhere.

Newfoundland has refused the offer of a status quo unless Canada withdraws the objection to the Blaine-Bond treaty. It is likely that the result will be the prohibition of Newfoundland fishermen in the waters of Labrador without a license.

The contract for the new Catholic hospital at Calgary will be let in a few days. The building will have a frontage of 110 feet, three stories high, with spacious basements. It will be the largest hospital west of Winnipeg, and will cost about $25,000.

A report has been in circulation in Winnipeg, that A. W. Ross, M. P. for Lisgar, has been appointed Minister of the Interior in place of Hon. Mr. Dewdney, who gets the British Columbia Governorship, but the rumor lacks confirmation from Ottawa.

A new Trappist monastery has been founded at Lake St. John, Que. Cardinal Taschereau is in favor of the movement and the Quebec Government will help the project, as the scheme is calculated to greatly augment the colonization of the Lake St. John district.

Nicholas G. Power has been named as Mr. Wm. Edgar's successor as General Passenger Agent of the Grand Trunk Railway. Mr. Power entered the service of the Great Western Railway in 1858. Geo. T. Bell has been named as Assistant General Passenger Agent.

The Quebec Chronicle (Conservative) says that when Parliament is asked to vote a sum for the purpose of erecting a monument to the late Sir John Macdonald on Parliament Square, Ottawa, the Minister of Justice should also prefer a similar request with reference to the late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie.

The funeral of the late Bishop Williams took place at Quebec on Sunday. During the funeral procession the church bells tolled, and on most of the public buildings flags floated at half-mast. St. George's society suspended their usual programme in token of respect for the death of the eminent churchman.

Two bodies were recently found in Rainy Lake district, where the Little Elk empties into that body of water. From papers found upon one of the bodies, the name of one man is believed to be Henry Matthews of Cincinnati. Near at hand was found a Winchester rifle, also two small axes and some camp traps. The men were apparently about 30 or 35 years old.

A body was found near Lachine on Saturday and recognized as that of George C. Gay, a Pullman car conductor, running from Montreal to Vancouver. He went out with a friend to shoot muskrats, and his friend returned saying he had missed Clay. One of his eyes was put out, and near the body lay a double-barrelled gun with one barrel unloaded. The body was found near the railway track. It is uncertain whether Clay was struck by the cars or shot.

The Globe's London cable says: "The United Empire Trade League, Howard Vincent's organization, has just issued first annual report couched in very glowing language. It says that the league has over 5000 members who may congratulate themselves on being pioneers of the rising movement calculated to maintain the permanent integrity of the Empire and promote the prosperity of all persons under the British flag. The Empire trade convention and banquet will be held in London on the 23rd of June."

There was a good deal of talk in Toronto over the failure to report the case of diptheria which brought young Palmer, of the Palmer House, to a terrible death so quickly. The medical health officer acted promptly as soon as his attention was called to the matter. The house was disinfected, the clothing destroyed and an information sworn out against those who neglected reporting the case. The number of diptheria cases in the city is still large. There are ninety patients in the hospital at the present time.

The taking of evidence to fix the list of contributaries of the insolvent Consolidation Life Association and Cosmopoliton Casuality Company has been commenced at Toronto. Many persons throughout Canada, among them Senator Clemow, Lieut.-Governor Schultz and Premier Greenway consented, on condition that no financial liability would thereby be incurred, to allow their names to appear as directors; but the assets of the defunct companies being slight, an attempt is being made to have all these gentlemen made contributaries.

An important deal is being put through in Montreal looking toward the amalgamation of the big live stock shippers of Montreal to control the trade of the Dominion. John Crowe, Robert Bickerdyke, W. E. Bowel, L. Delorme, and Frank Lynch have applied for the charter of the Bickerdyke & Crowe Cattle Co. It is understood a couple of large western shippers, with Montreal men, controlling about sixty thousand cattle, will comprise the company. The idea is to combine and be able to make rates with the steamship companies, the same as is done in the States.

The committee on privileges of the Nova Scotia Legislature, which has been hearing the evidence in regard to the charges brought by Mr. Cahan, leader of the Opposition, against Messrs. Macdonald and Macpherson, of Cape Breton, and Courtney and Fraser, of Victoria, have presented their reports, accompanied by an enormous volume of evidence. The committee report that a certain amount of evidence has been given, showing a large amount of irregularity and looseness in connection with the road tax expenditure in those counties, but that none of the serious charges made by Mr. Cahan has been established in any way affecting the honor of those members. Mr. Webster presented a minority report, expressing the belief that there was some evidence tending to establish one or more of the serious charges against Macdonald.

D. T. Thomas, Mayor of Truro, who refused to obey the order of the Nova Scotia Assembly on Wednesday, and who was arrested on the speaker's warrant, was again brought to the bar of the House on Saturday night. Having declined to give any explanation of his conduct or express any regret for the attempt of which he has been guilty, the House voted by 25 to 8 that he be sent to the county jail for 48 hours. About midnight he was handed to the custody of Sheriff Archibald. There was a good deal of excitement over the matter, and the galleries and corridors of the House were crowded while the matter was under discussion. Some of his friends who had arrived by train gave cheers for him when he was brought from the Assembty ante-room to be conveyed to jail.

James B. Lundy of Brampton, killed his wife on Friday. Mrs. Lundy and her family were entertaining a small company at the house, and Mrs. Lundy asked to be excused while preparing refreshments. On entering the kitchen, Lundy, who had returned from Toronto and secreted himself under a kitchen table, opened fire upon his wife with a five chamber revolver, and shot her three times. One of the guests, hearing the report, rushed out and succeeded in wrenching the revolver from the murderer's grasp. Mrs. Lundy dropped on the floor with blood pouring from her wounds, and expired almost instantly. Lundy is in jail and takes matters very quietly. He said he had been living in jealousy for 20 years and thought he would end the matter. He had been drinking heavily. The coroner's jury has returned a verdict to the effect that the woman came to her death by two pistol shots, at the hands of J. B. Lundy.

"RIGBY" "RIGBY" "RIGBY"

This popular article is growing in favor every day. Its merits are known and are thoroughly appreciated. "The proof of the pudding is in the eating," and our repeat orders prove beyond argument that there is only one porous Waterproof on the market worth to be so designated, and that the people, having found it out, are bound to have it. See our Fish Ponds all over the country, made of Rigby Cloth. Living fish in these ponds prove that there are no injurious ingredients in the Rigby compound. The fact that it is prepared by a leading scientist, one of England's greatest chemical Engineers, and endorsed by the public everywhere is a satisfactory guarantee that Rigby is no humbug, but will stand the test of time. We claim that age will improve the waterproof qualities of Rigby. There are Fog-proof coats on the market, but they are not in it. Rigby is absolutely porous and waterproof.

ESCORTED BY SOLDIERS.

The Warlike Stockmen of Wyoming Return From Their Expedition.

DENVER, April 24.—A Republican special from Cheyenne says: Major Egbert, commanding the Seventeenth infantry troops, which relieved three companies of the Sixth cavalry from Fort McKinney as guards of the captured stockmen, started from Fort Fetterman at 7 this morning. The train was preceded by a pilot engine and caboose, the latter filled with a construction crew and tools to repair possible damage to the tracks. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the train pulled into the Fort Russell depot. Several hundred people awaited its arrival. Two long lines of soldiers were drawn up at the depot. One was stationed along the length of the train, and the other a short distance toward the fort. Major Egbert here received orders to hold the men in charge until further orders. Baggage was first unloaded, then the twenty Texans came forth upon the platform and stood in a group guarded by soldiers and waiting orders. They are all young looking but looked very tough, their recent experience giving them the appearance of a hard gang of citizens. The last to appear were twenty-two cattlemen, who looked tired and worn. The Texans were first marched away, guarded on every side by the soldiers. Several hundred yards behind were the cattlemen, closely guarded.

The men are not disposed to talk much, except about the journey. Considering everything, they were in exceedingly good spirits, the presence and words of friends having a good deal to do with their feeling. "Would you have surrendered to the sheriff's posse?" was asked of one stockman.

"No, we would not," was the reply. "Every man had made up his mind to die where he was rather than surrender, and we would have sold our lives dearly."

Governor Barbour to-night stated, in answer to a question propounded by a large number of reporters who visited him in a body, that he had no knowledge whatever of the intention of the cattlemen to make their invading trip. He also stated that he had not decided exactly what would be done with the captured men. For the present they will be kept at Fort Russell, until the time came for them to be turned over to the civil authorities. Before proceeding further he would await further information, which was expected.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 24.—Major Wolcott and 45 men, comprising the band that invaded Johnson county to kill and run out the cattle thieves, are at Russell, three miles from town. They left here 19 days ago by a special train, full of fight and confidence. Some of the fight lives, but confidence is shattered.

TO FIGHT SLAVE RAIDERS.

The Forces of the Anti-Slavery Party of Belgium Begins Its Work.

[New York Sun.]

The London Times made a curious blunder the other day when it said that next month an expedition organized by the Anti-Slavery Society of Belgium would be sent to Lake Tanganyika under the command of Captain Joubert and Lieut. Jacques, to suppress the slave trade. As a matter of fact Jacques arrived on Lake Tanganyika in October last and joined Joubert, who had reached the lake some time before. The expedition to which the Times refers is a supplementory party which is going out to reinforce the advance expedition. It is a noteworthy movement inasmuch as it is the first time an expedition has entered Africa for the avowed purpose of putting an end to slave raiding by force of arms.

Capt. Jacques, on his arrival at Tanganyika, established himself on the west coast, where Joubert had preceded him. He learned that 6000 natives from tribes that have been hunted almost to death by Arab slave-chseers had taken refuge under the protecting Belgian flag. The great raider of that region is a chief named Rumaliza. He is the wealthiest and most influential Arab at Ujiji, the principal town on the big lake. Jacques did not arrive a moment too soon, for that chief had organized a strong force and was encamped within 12 miles of Captain Joubert, whom he fully expected to annihilate. The news of Jacques' approach preceded him, and he was met, when nearing the lake, by a letter from one of the priests at Karema, saying: "The news of your arrival has fallen upon the Arab chiefs with the stunning effect of an explosion of gunpowder."

As soon as Jacques joined Captain Joubert on the west side of the lake the advancing Arabs retreated. Before the arrival of the little Belgian army the Arabs were devastating hundreds of square miles and were leading thousands of slaves to Ujiji and their other chief ports. They had overrun the country around the northern part of the lake, and they were moving southward with the intention of ravaging all the southern tribes. They have been checked in their murderous career, and the Anti-Slavery Society of Belgium has proved that its method of dealing with slave raiders is effective.

A large part of the munitions intended for Joubert and Jacques were sent by the way of Quilimane and Lake Nyassa, and at last reports they had not reached the Belgians, who were very anxious lest they should run short of ammunition. The expedition will carry out a very large supply of guns and munitions, and the little force expect to put an end to the raids which, for two years wast, have been inflicting indescribable suffering on the tribes around Lake Tanganyika.

The Closing Entertainment.

The entertainments given from time to time by the Young People's Association of the First Presbyterian church have been deservedly popular and well patronized by the public, and that given last evening was no exception. The school room was crowded to the doors by an audience eager to enjoy a programme which, it was admitted on all sides, was by far the best given during the year. The opening address was given by Rev. Dr. Smith. It was brief, but like all his remarks, it had the right ring about it, being intended to encourage the young people and point out the advantages of associations like the Y.P.L.A. The programme contained no fewer than 18 numbers and it may truthfully be said that there was not one that did not give amusement or instruction or both. Mr. J. G. Brown was absent owing to illness, but Mr. Kinnaird, Mr. Grant, Mr. Watson and Mr. Gold gave solos that reminded some, at least, of their hearers of the days of "Auld Lang Syne." "Beautiful River," by the Glee Club, was delightful. Mr. Landell's recitation and Mr. Boyd's Indian clubs furnished a pleasing variety. Mrs. Hall, Miss Berridge, Mr. Scanlon and the Hall Bros. gave instrumental contributions. A novel, though not the least enjoyable, feature of the entertainment consisted of tableaux, diversified in character and appropriate in every respect. The representations, seven in number, appealed to the humorous, moral, patriotic and religious feelings of the audience and it must have cost the "amateur performers" time and trouble to get their parts so well prepared. "God Save the Queen" brought the entertainment to a close.

HOW SETTLERS ARE TREATED.

An Immigrant's Difficulties in Searching for Land in B. C.

The Vancouver Telegram (a Government paper) publishes the following:

"At a meeting of the Board of Trade, last evening, Mr. J. B. Ker brought to the attention of the board the case of Rev. Mr. King, a retired Episcopal clergyman, who had officiated in a poor parish in New York for some time past, but who, on account of ill-health, had been compelled to abandon his calling, and had decided to come to this district with a view of going into farming. Mr. King, he said, before breaking up his home in New York, wrote to the Department of the Interior and Agriculture at Ottawa for information concerning this province, and had been informed that he could secure suitable lands in the railway belt at $5 an acre, or could purchase or pre-empt provincial lands on most favorable terms. He was also directed to write to the immigration agent at Vancouver for further particulars. When he arrived at Vancouver he found that there were no Government lands available in this locality, but was given maps of the upper country by the immigration agent, with what were said to be good farming lands marked on them, well located and open for purchase at $5 per acre. He was also told that he could get full particulars in regard to these lands at the Government offices at Vernon. Mr. King then proceeded to Vernon, where he interviewed the Government agent, who told him that the lands marked on the maps he had been given by the agent here were located on or near the summit of a snow-capped mountain some 50 or 60 miles away. In reply to his further enquiries as to the possibility of purchasing other lands in the Okanagan district, Mr. King claims he was informed that there were none to be had, that all the available farming lands had been already purchased."

In connection with our Engineering and Surveying Department, we are opening up an office at Nelson, in the now famous Kootenay District, for the purpose of handling Real Estate and Mining in all its branches. Our partner Mr. M. S. Davys having resided in the Kootenay country for the past five years, and successfully developed valuable mining properties there, is thus able to furnish reliable information as to location and values of properties. We have secured the services of Mr. R. H. Cavill, formerly of Swansea, where he was for five years connected with the Swansea Smelter. Mr. Cavill's practical experience as manager for the past 7 years, in some of the foremost mines and mills in California, Arizona, and Mexico Central America, together with his Swansea experience, gives him a thorough knowledge of the treatment and best methods of working refractory ores.

KASLO CITY

The Centre of the Great Kootenay Mining District in B.C.

This young and thriving City is situated on Kootenay Lake at the mouth of Kaslo River, within close proximity to the famous Kaslo and Slocan mines.

The discoveries during the present year of numerous mines of remarkably rich ore and great width on Kaslo river and east of Slocan Lake are well known to the public. They have attracted the attention of capitalists and miners all over the continent, and there is no question that these mines, which are tributary to KASLO CITY, will receive more attention than those of any other section of Kootenay.

A spacious hotel has been built for the accommodation of travelers. Stores and other buildings have also been erected. The townsite is being cleared and streets graded so as to forward the large amount of building that will be in progress as soon as material is secured for construction. A trail has been built to the mines, which will be replaced by a wagon road as soon as the work can be prosecuted. The grade to the mines is an easy one. An application for a charter to build a railway line into the mines from Kaslo will be made at the coming session of the Legislature. Everything is being done that circumstances will permit to give easy access to the mines and furnish supplies for the miners. KASLO CITY will have a large population this summer. It will become the supply depot for the richest mining section yet discovered in British Columbia. Unlike many mountain towns, it is most favorably situated on a gentle slope from the waters of a sheltered bay on Kootenay Lake, and is supplied for domestic and manufacturing purposes, by a large stream of pure cold water.

If you wish to participate in the profits that enchanced values will bring don't fail to invest in Kaslo City. Lots are on sale at the offices of all the Leading Real Estate Brokers in the Province.

THE WAY OF A STATESMEN.

The following confidential letter, written by Hon. Alexander Mackenzie when Premier and Minister of Public Works, has been published in the Globe. It throws a strong light on the character of the dead statesman, and suggests comparisons which are by no means complimentary to his successors in office:—

Confidential.

OTTAWA, April 27, 1875.

MY DEAR H.—I have your note regarding C——. I will endeavor to employ him within a few days at Thunder Bay on the commissariat staff, though I fear he is rather old, especially as his chief (B.'s father) is older. I have sent Mr. Kingston's letter to Mr. Laird to consider.

I am quite concerned about the dinner. I can hardly go to speak freely at present, and I always like to have it in my power to speak without restraint or stint. I would like much to be relieved of the Public Works Department; but I cannot see my way to that at present. It is the great spending department, the possible great jobbing department, the department that can make or ruin a government at such a time as this, when $25,000,000 are in the power of its head to spend on public works. Friends (?) expect to be benefited by offices they are unfit for, by contracts they are not entitled to, by advances not earned. Enemies ally themselves with friends and push the friends to the front. Some attempt to storm the office. Some dig trenches at a distance and approach in regular siege form. I feel like the besieged, lying on my arms night and day. I have offended at least twenty Parliamentary friends by my defence of the "citadel." A weak Minister here would ruin the party in a month, and the country very soon. So I must drudge on as I best may and carry out the experiment of doing right whatever happens, and trusting to have a majority of the House sustain me, and when that fails I will go out cheerfully if not joyfully.

Let me know the current talk and your opinion about the filling of the Supreme Court.

I am yours faithfully,
A. MACKENZIE.

Mr. Mackenzie's stern refusal to purchase good will for himself with the country's money contrasts strongly with the methods pursued by Sir Chas. Tupper and Sir Hector Langevin. During their regime the great spending department of the Government became "the great jobbing department," but, sad to say, its prostitution in this fashion has not brought the punishment from the people which the act deserved. The other portion of Mr. Mackenzie's conditional prophecy has been at least partialy fulfilled; if the manipulation of public works for purposes of corruption has not ruined the country it has inflicted grievous injury, in combination with other kindred abuses of which the Conservative Government have been guilty. The Liberal Premier's refusal to employ the public money in retaining or securing support for himself was completely parallelled by his refusal to use the tariff as a means of keeping himself in power. Great pressure was brought to bear upon him to move even a short distance in the direction of "protection," but he steadfastly declined, for the reason that he looked upon the proposal to increase taxation as one certain to injure the country if carried out. Rather than violate his convictions in this regard he would and did lose office. In one of his earliest speeches in the campaign of 1878 he spoke as follows:

"I know that some people imagine that in a period of depression the Government can do a great deal to resuscitate business and induce prosperity; but any prosperity we may have is owing, not to legislation, but to the hard work, the industry, the productive powers and energy of our people; and any attempt to bolster our manufactures by giving them an extravagant amount of protection would simply amount to the imposition of a heavy taxation on the farmer. The farming interest is the one that sustains this country. We have already given to our manufacturers 2½ per cent. more protection than they had when we came into office in order to reach a larger revenue. I believe that if we were to give any more it would simply have the effect of burdening the farmers and others engaged in the natural industries which furnish nearly the whole of our exports and maintain directly or indirectly the greater part of the population in employment. I hope the great mass of the people do not believe that the way to alleviate distress is to impose more taxation. The idea is illogical, and cannot commend itself to any reasonable mind. Our object is to make this a cheap country to live in.

Time has amply vindicated the position thus taken by Mr. Mackenzie, as it has shown how serious are the consequences which have flowed from the failure of his successors to follow his example in faithfully guarding the treasury. The policy of high taxation has had exactly the effect which Mr. Mackenzie predicted for it, as witness the census and the general verdict of unprejudiced observers. We may here reproduce one more illustration of Mr. Mackenzie's character, which is thus given by the Globe:

Another story is told of an incident which occurred shortly after the above, which shows how unstable the new government was, even after its accession, and yet how resolutely the defeated leader refused to stoop to secure an advantage over his opponents by any means that savored in the least of underhandedness or intrigue. The provincial elections took place in 1879, and Mr. Mowat practically swept Ontario. Many old supporters of Sir John Macdonald were still restless under the remembrance of the Pacific scandal, and one day a member of the Dominion House waited upon Mr. Mackenzie and informed him that himself and 11 others were prepared to assist in turning out the new Government if satisfactory terms could be arranged. Mr. Mackenzie replied that he did not desire to countenance any action resembling intrigue, but added that doubtless many opportunities would offer whereby the members in question might show their disapproval of the Government policy and that the Opposition would gladly welcome any support that they were able to render. It is needless to say that the threatened "flop" did not materialise.

In his refusal to allow the treasury to be pillaged by friend or opponent, in his unwillingness to adopt a policy which he felt to be wrong simply that he might remain in power, in his objection to using treachery and intrigue against his political enemies, Mr. Mackenzie's conduct stands out in bold contrast with that of the men who have administered the affairs of the country since he was premier.

GROWING OBSOLETE.

Yesterday the TIMES in dealing with the question of parliamentary privilege showed that even the British House of Commons is largely inclined to abandon the exercise of its power to proceed against outside persons for "breaches of privilege." The ground was taken that the practice is one legitimized by usage only, and is in these modern days possible merely because it has not been resisted. The House of Commons has taken very good care not to provoke resistance by outrageous uses of this so-called power, else it would ere now have been deprived of it, if not by the action of the courts, then by the force of public opinion. It will be noticed that the position taken by the TIMES is completely in harmony with the opinions of the London Daily News, which the Colonist reproduces this morning. The Daily News says:—

We are afraid that the performance has lost much of its terror. We can remember a distinguished member of the front Opposition bench standing at the bar before he was a member of the House, and not seeming a penny the worse, and nobody then, or since, thinking him a penny the worse for the modified pillory attitude in which he had to be planted. We cannot remember any case in which the dignity of the House really gained by the summoning of persons to stand in a metaphorical white sheet before its bar. The custom is growing old—is growing even obsolete. It has been put into practice for mere technical breaches of privilege, to which no one could think that any moral reprobation attached. The mere fact that it has thus been put into practice proves that it is not likely to be very effective when it is employed against persons who are accused of some much more serious offence.

The ultra-Conservative St. James Gazette is also of opinion that "the House of Commons is never better pleased and rarely worse employed than when it is vindicating its privileges." We had not seen these expressions of opinion when yesterday's article was written, and the reader can easily appreciate the similarity of the TIMES' views to those of the London papers. There can be no reasonable doubt but that the British House of Commons will in the course of a very few years have entirely dropped the practice of calling outsiders to the bar for alleged contempt. It is quite certain that if it undertook to exercise its power in such a tyrannical fashion as was done by the British Columbian Assembly in the Kennedy case, the resulting storm of popular indignation would put an end to the practice at once and forever. It is passing strange, then, that a tyrannical custom, inherited from a darker age, should at one and the same time be disappearing in England and be resurrected in this supposedly free country. Apart from the legal question involved in the case, the alleged offence of the Kennedys was not one of such gravity as to call for the exercise of any extraordinary powers. The fact is plain that the government thought it saw a chance to revenge itself on an opponent and gleefully grasped it, thus committing an outrage for which it has already repented in secret. It will have yet greater cause to repent, for we cannot believe that men guilty of so tyrannical a course have any chance of retaining even their present slight hold on public opinion.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In 1874 the population of Newfoundland was 161,374; in 1884 it had increased to 197,335, and last year it was 202,000. In the decade subsequent to 1874 it had increased 22.14 per cent.; but in the past seven years it had increased only 2.36 per cent. The Ancient Colony seems to be making very poor progress.

The Canadian Gazette finds itself unable to interpret the mysterious passage in Minister Foster's budget speech in which he referred vaguely to encouraging trade between Canada and Great Britain. It seems rather a waste of time for the Gazette to speculate as to the meaning of Mr. Foster's words. They were merely thrown out as a sprat to catch a whale—that is to say, they were intended to allay the feeling of discontent now prevailing on account of the obvious failure of the "national policy" to do anything for the country. Minister Foster and the Government have not the slightest intention of cultivating the hostility of the Red Parlor by cultivating trade with Great Britain.

Experiments with Vertical Lights.

A movement is on foot in England which promises to revolutionize the lighthouse service on the British coast. Some time ago it was suggested that a light sent vertically would not only be seen as a bright pillar against the horizon, but would illuminate the clouds above it and thus be visible at a greater distance from the sea and other levels than any horizontal light, however powerful. It was argued that even in fog the vertical light would be far more easily seen than the horizontal, though the vessel herself was enveloped in mist because the curtain thins rapidly on leaving earth or water and does not rise more than 300 feet at the outside. The consequence is that vessels in a haze are able to descry all but the lower rays of a vertical light. Some interesting experiments on these lines were carried out with great success in this country last year, and now Lieutenant Wells is following up the investigation in England. In a recent demonstration he projected a broad belt of light from a search light to a height of 500 yards, and illumined a passing cloud at that level very distinctly. He then narrowed the beam into a pencil of light about 1000 yards in length, which caught a cloud on a higher level. Finally he adjusted the instrument so that the light pencil could be thrown vertically. The lights were clearly seen 34 miles away, although they were only set at an angle of 15. Had they been vertical they would have been visible for 50 miles at least. The light used in these experiments was estimated at 6500 candles. It is now proposed to show the most valuable feature of this discovery by placing an absolutely vertical light in a suitable position for observations to be taken at sea. The data which a beam of light going up some thousands of feet vertically—it must be absolutely vertical—would give for the determination of a ship's position is such that in tolerable weather the distance could by trigonometrical observation fixed to a cable's length.

WILL HE BE GOVERNOR?

The Premier Says He Would not Go to Ottawa to Seek Appointment.

A TIMES reporter had a short interview with the Hon. John Robson this afternoon to ascertain if there was anything in the rumor that he (the Premier) intended leaving for Ottawa shortly in connection with the Lieutenant-Governorship of this province. The Premier said there was absolutely no foundation for the rumor. He would not think of going to Ottawa to seek the governorship. When asked if he would accept the governorship in the event of its being offered to him, he replied that that was hardly a fair question. He would not accept the governorship, however, if his health would permit of the worry and care incident to his present position. On parting the Premier intimated that he was glad the reporter had called on him to learn the facts of the case. This, he said, was better than publishing as truths rumors which were foundationless.

From the Sealing Grounds.

The sealing schooner Penelope, Capt. Cowill arrived last night from the sealing grounds. She has been out for nearly three months having gone south and then north as far as Queen Charlotte Island. The weather experienced was fair for the season of the year and the Penelope brought in 345 skins. She spoke the Carlotta Cox with 447; Sadie Turpel, 77; E. B. Marvin, 407; Mary Taylor, 140; Willard Ainsworth, of Seattle, 35; and on the 19th of Cape Cook the City of San Diego was spoken with 96 skins. Nothing was heard of the Henry Dennis.

Municipal Matters.

Nelson Bennett is expected in the the city this week to discuss the proposed guarantee by the city of the Sidney railway bonds.

The sanitary committee met this afternoon to consider the crematory question and other matters. A site for the crematory adjoining the cemetery will be considered and probably some definite action will shortly be decided on:

A proposition will be made to the city council at an early day to pave a couple of blocks on Government street, as an experiment with asphaltum.

Out of Quarantine.

The 500 Chinamen who have been in quarantine for the past week were brought to the city by the steamer Maude this afternoon and landed on the outer dock. They are now undergoing the usual custom house inspection.

Tribute to Nature.

[Tune—"America."]

Of nature broad and free,
Of grass and flower and tree,
Sing we today.
God hath pronounced it good,
So we, His creatures, would
Offer to field and wood
Our heartfelt lay.

To all that meets the eye,
In earth or air or sky,
Tribute we bring.
Barren this world would be,
Bereft of shrub and tree;
Now, gracious Lord, to Thee
Praises we sing.

May we Thy hand behold,
As bud and leaf unfold;
See but Thy thought;
Nor heedlessly destroy,
Nor pass unnoticed by,
But be our constant joy,
All Thou hast wrought.

As each small bud and flower
Speaks of the Maker's power,
Tells of His love;
So we, Thy children dear,
Would live from year to year,
Show forth Thy goodness here,
And then above.

—Mary A. Heerlmans.

A carpenter who has been working on a house on the Burnside road, complains that a number of his tools have been carried away lately, and he is working a clue to bring the thief to justice.

Painful Accident.

Mrs. John Teague met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon. She was standing over a grate when taken with a fainting fit, and fell on to the iron bars. She received a very ugly cut on the forehead.

Young People's Entertainment.

The members of the Y.P.L.A. of the First Presbyterian Church gave an interesting entertainment in the school room yesterday. The association will meet on Monday next to close the business of the season.

Bazaar and Concert.

The ladies of the Reformed Episcopal congregation are making preparations for a sale of plain and fancy sewing work which will be held on May 19th, and which will be followed by a grand concert in the evening.

Five O'Clock Teas.

The ladies of St. John's Church decided upon Tuesday next, May 3, as the date for the first of their series of five o'clock teas. Articles of fancy work now under construction will be disposed of at these tea meetings.

Saturday Afternoon Closing.

The dentists of the city have decided to close their offices on Saturday afternoons again this summer. No doubt many other professional and business men will follow suit, and Saturday afternoon will, as usual, be a holiday.

Corrig College.

Corrig College opened for the summer term yesterday morning with an excellent attendance. Principal Church will be receiving and classifying new scholars until the end of the week, after which there will be no regular entrance until next September.

A Coincidence.

The Pirates of Penzance will be presented to-night in two cities, Victoria and Winnipeg, by amateur companies, in aid of charities. The amateurs of this city will have a crowded house to greet them, as every seat has been reserved, and many, no doubt, will be satisfied with standing room.

Change of Schedule.

The summer time-table of the E. & N Railway goes into effect on Friday next. On Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays return tickets will be issued between all points for a fare and a quarter, good for return not later than Sunday. Return tickets for a fare and a half, good for seven days, can be purchased every day.

The Marvin Heard From.

A letter was this morning received from Capt. Clarence Cox of the schooner E. B. Marvin. He had 455 skins at the time of writing and the crew were all well. There is generally a good deal of interest taken in the Marvin as she is owned by her hunters most of whom are Victoria boys. The schooner had experienced heavy weather.

A Double Bill.

The announcement is made that on May 16th and 17th an amateur theatrical company who wish to present St. Saviour's Church with a new pulpit, will first present in the most approved style "The Yankee Peddlar, or Old Times in Virginia," and "Among the Breakers." Verily, Victoria talent is not allowed to remain inactive.

New Salvation Army Hall.

The rooms formerly occupied by Goodman & Co. as a piano factory, immediately above Messrs. Flint & Williams' offices, at the corner of Fort and Broad streets, has been secured by the Salvation Army, and soon will be converted into barracks. The rooms are being refitted and will be occupied as army quarters on Thursday next if all goes well.

A Merry Party.

There was a sound of revelry in Sir William Wallace Hall last night, the occasion being an assembly of the young people, who, for some time past have been instructed in the art of dancing by Miss Bridges. A very pleasant evening was spent, the young dancers giving ample evidence of their ability to master the mazes of terpsichore, reflecting credit on their teacher and themselves.

A Juvenile Court.

A Juvenile Court of the Ancient Order of Foresters was inaugurated last evening by the officers of Court Northern Light. The court started with twelve members with prospects of many more. The officers are W. Nicholas, president; G. Phelps, vice-president; R. Kennie, secretary. All the Forresters are talking of a grand excursion to Vancouver on the 1st of July, the 20th anniversary of Forrestery on the coast.

Promising Prospects.

Mr. H. McCutchion, of the Kamloops Sentinel, is in the city. He carries in his pocket a sample of the coal recently discovered in the neighborhood of Kamloops, which a mining expert named Bellam has pronounced of the very finest quality. The same mining expert examined the ground in the vicinity of which a flow of natural gas was discovered last year, and this he asserts is the best natural gas prospect he has ever tested. The people of the quiet town of Kamloops are getting excited and parties are out peforating the mountains on all sides in search of hidden wealth.

The Church of St. Mark's.

The Lord Bishop of Columbia, attended by the Ven. Archdeacon Scriven, Revs. E. F. Lipscombe, W. D. Barber, J. B. Hewetson, and W. H. P. Arden, opened the Church of St. Mark's yesterday afternoon, preaching a dedicatory sermon from II. Cor. v., 15. The interior of the building was arrayed with a wealth of flowers, and the altar was tastefully decorated. The Rev. W. D. Barber preached last evening to a large congregation. To-day at 7 o'clock p.m., the ladies of the congregation will give a tea and musical social, and on Wednesday at 8 p.m. a concert will be given.

The Police Court.

One drunk contributed $5 at the police court this morning. The boy William Dougherty charged with the larceny of $12 from James Holden, pleaded not guilty and was remanded for three days. A Chinaman named Yuen Chuck, charged with using threatening language to a Chinese woman, did not put in an appearance and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Found Drowned.

"Old Dan," the Indian who was missed from the schooner C. D. Rand about three weeks ago, was found floating in the harbor this morning, the body being badly decomposed. He had a bottle of whiskey in his pocket and had evidently fallen overboard while drunk. The Indians claim that he was last seen in the hands of a police officer, but all that the officers had to do with him was to order him away from a lot of Chinamen's cabins around which he was loafing. An inquest is being held at the provincial police court this afternoon.

A Gentleman Caned.

Sergt.-Major Mellon, who for some time past has been instructing the young ladies who will give a broom drill exhibition in the new Roman Catholic Cathedral on Wednesday evening, was last night presented with an elegant gold headed cane by the fair soldiers under his tuition. The following address accompanied the cane: On behalf of the Rev. Father Nicolaye and the Young Ladies Institute in connection with those taking part in the drill who have been under your instructions, I am directed to present you with this slight token of their appreciation of your efforts and zeal you have shown in teaching them the various military movements, which have resulted in special benefit to them, and trust it will not only support you in your walk through life, but also bring kind recollections of the girls you left behind you. MISS M. E. BAINES, Sec. Y.L.I.

Reformed Judaism and its Pioneers.

This is an interesting work by Rev. Dr. Emanuel Schreiber, Rabbi of the Congregation Emanu El, Spokane. The book itself claims only to be a contribution to a complete history of Reformed Judaism, which will aid the future historian. Very few people, even among the Jews, have a clear conception of the "reforms" in Judaism, and Dr. Schreiber's book is therefore a desirable source of instruction as to an important movement. The ninth chapter on "Abraham Geiger" deals with the origin of Christianity, and especially with the Pharisees and Sadduces. The book is written in an earnest, attractive style, and is well worth perusal by all who feel an interest in the development of religious thought. Dr. Schreiber is the author of a number of other works in relation to Judaism, some of which have had great success in Germany and America.

Y.L.I. Entertainment.

The success of the entertainment to be given in the new R. C. Cathedral tomorrow night, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Institute, is already assured. The number of tickets disposed of will make it a financial success, and the subjoined programme is sufficient evidence that the performance will be a meritorious one:

SEALERS PROTEST

Against the Evidence Being Taken by Major Williams.

About twenty members of the Sealer's Association with Captain G. S. Cox the president, in the chair, met at R. Hall's office last evening, principally for the purposes mentioned in the TIMES last evening. A protest was framed and forwarded to Ottawa against the action of Major Williams who has been collecting sealing? information for the United States Government. Mr. Andrew Laing was the only sealer examined by Mr. Williams.

It was decided to arrange for the presentation of details in the claims for compensation so as to expedite the work of Messrs. Gleadowe and Rose, the English commissioners, who are now in the city.

The question of selling the whole sealing fleet to the representatives of other nations as outlined in last evening's TIMES was also touched upon.

A Popular Topic.

Last night was a repetition of the success which has attended Prof. W. G. Alexander's lectures on phrenology in the Imperial theatre. A number of children were selected from the audience and their adaptability for certain lines of work pointed out. The recitation of Mrs. Alexander, in which she represented the song of the bobolink, was an excellent piece of elocution and imitation, and it is said that the audience were so much taken with it that numbers of them were practising it on the way home. "Good and Bad Heads" is the subject for to-night. On Thursday night the professor will lecture in the Victoria Theatre, on "Love, Courtship, Marriage and Jealousy," the one great subject in which all humanity finds interest, and obtains more or less experience, (pleasant or otherwise) will be freely and gracefully presented. Why the course of true love does not run smoothly will be plainly demonstrated. Reserved seats 50 cents, and may be obtained now.

What He Wanted.

Major Williams, of the United States treasury department, who was in the city last week with C. J. Mulkey, of the United States customs department, left for Neah Bay on Sunday evening on the revenue cutter Wolcott. It is now learned that Major Williams confined his information merely to particulars of the number of male and female seals killed and the number lost. He will return to Washington with his information and then go to the seal islands where he was last year. He claims that the sealers misunderstood what he was here for. If that is the case it is his own fault as he went to work as if he was on some dreadfully secret mission.

Prepare for Inspection.

Lt.-Col. Holmes, acting D. A. G., has expressed his intention to inspect the three headquarter batteries of the British Columbia Brigade Garrison Artillery on the 14th of May, and in consequence an effort will be made on the part of the officers and men to make as good a showing on that occasion as possible. There will be battalion drill on Thursday night and a good turn out is expected.

The regular drill of No. 3 Battery will not be held on Wednesday evening, on account of the battery drill on Thursday evening, when every man is expected to attend.

The Sewer Outlet Completed.

After a year's work the rock tunnel outlet of the city sewerage system was completed yesterday afternoon, and a test made of the work. The obstructions were removed from the corner of Moss and Snowden streets where hundreds of tons of water had accumulated, and the liquid mass with a rush and roar merged through the rocky channel and out into the waters of the straits, showing that the levels of the system are all that could be desired and that the undertaking has been practically carried to a successful completion. Those who were interested in the work are highly delighted with the result.

For the Church.

A very pleasant "Butterfly Social" was held at the residence of Mrs. Gerow, Esquimalt road yesterday evening. The company of young (and older) people who were present were obliged to wear numbered butterflys, the gentleman who received a certain number being paired off with a lady who wore a butterfly with a similar number. Games and other amusements were indulged in, and a small revenue realized which will be devoted to defraying expenses incident to the furnishing of the Victoria West Methodist Church.

The Veteran Major.

Major Downie, the veteran miner, arrived from Whatcom yesterday. He is collecting data to complete his Reminiscences of Mining life on the Pacific Coast, of which he has over 300 pages written and ready for the press. The Major is one of the oldest miners on the coast and has been in every important mining camp between Alaska and Mexico. A history of mining life by one so well qualified to picture its various phases, would undoubtedly be a most interesting book.

A Winter Sunset.

Mr. G. W. Bigger has on view in Jamieson's window a very pretty picture by Ernest G. Wells, the well known artist of Auburn, New York. It is a painting of a scene one mile from the artist's home and is entitled "A Winter Sunset."

Two Days Set Aside.

Two days, Wednesday and Thursday, have been set apart for the hearing of the cases against district saloon keepers for selling liquor on Sunday. The court will sit at 2 o'clock each day in the Provincial Court. There are sixteen cases to come up.

FROM THE NORTH.

The Danube Makes a Quick Trip to Massett and Return.

The steamer Danube, Capt. Meyer, returned this morning from Massett and Queen Charlotte Islands, having made the round trip in less than 10 days. The following passengers came down: R. Cunningham, Port Essington; J. Cunningham, Metlakahtla; S. A. Spencer, Alert Bay; W. Murray Matthew, J.P., A. Joyce and T. Ostrom, Rivers Inlet; H. Grant, D. Carmody, and C. Paulson, Valdez Island, and W. A. Robertson, Queen Charlotte Island.

Her freight consisted of part of the winter's furs and skins for the Hudson Bay Co., R. Cunningham, and R. P. Rithet & Co. The lot is valued at about $10,000.

Mr. W. A. Robertson who was a passenger down from Queen Charlotte Island has been up there prospecting the coal lands owned by Mr. W. Wilson. He brought down a number of specimens.

Messrs. Paulson and Carmody of the syndicate who purchased Sayward's sawmill and timber lands, returned from Valdez Island where they have been looking over the land forming part of the purchase which is on that island. They have other lands on the island to go over before the time for closing the purchase, viz., May 1.

To Pave Government Street.

It is understood that a proposition will shortly be made to the City Council to pave a portion of Government street in the principal business part of the city. Under the new municipal act the property owners benefited can be assessed a pro rata for an improvement of the kind and as it would be very beneficial to the business men, it is doubtful if any one would object. It is claimed that it will not be necessary to wait until the sewers have been completed as bituminous rock which it is proposed to use can be replaced without any trouble. After the trouble experienced from dust during the last few days, the proposed change will be hailed with pleasure.

A Lot of Tenders.

There will have to be several meetings of the Board of Trade Building Committee before the contract for the new building is let as there is a large number of tenders to be considered. The architect is now putting them in order, to expedite the committee's work.

A Lively Horse.

Geo. Vienna's horse attached to a delivery cart ran away early this morning. He took a course up Johnson street, to Quadra then around the block and homeward, distributing the cart as he went. When he got home he had only a collar on.

Real Estate Sale.

Morrow, Holland & Co., to-day sold D. G. McBeth's property on View street, east of Blanchard, to an eastern gentleman for $8000. The property comprises a lot 60x120 feet and two dwellings, one of which was built recently.

No Damage.

The fire department was called out this afternoon to put out a fire at McIntosh's boat house. A few shingles had caught fire from a piece of cloth blown out of one of the blasts in the sewer. The damage was nominal.

WILL CELEBRATE TWO DAYS.

Sub-Committees Appointed by the General Celebration Committee.

The Admiral Will Assist With Men, Boats and Flags at the Regatta.

The preliminary arrangements for the celebration of the Queen's Birthday were made at a largely attended meeting of the general celebration committee held at the City Hall last evening with Mayor Beaven in the chair.

Mr. Robert Ward, on behalf of the committee appointed to wait on Admiral Hotham and Col. Holmes to ask them to assist in the celebration, reported that the committee had been most courteously received by both gentlemen. The admiral said he would be most happy to assist at the regatta with men, boats, flags and guns and as there is a large fleet at Esquimalt there will of course be a large number of boats and men. The committee said Mr. Ward had suggested to the admiral the possibility of having a field day or naval demonstration but he said that as the 24th was a holiday he could not ask the men to partake in anything that would make a hard day's work instead of the holiday. Col. Holmes promised to co-operate with the admiral in whatever he decided to do.

Mr. Ward said the committees should centralize their efforts to make the regatta a grand event as with so many ships here it could easily be done. He also mentioned the fact that the course should be kept clear during the boat races.

Mr. Richard Broderick agreed to take his old position as starter at the regatta and said he would do all he could to keep the course clear if the committee would assist him. He suggested that a man be placed at Point Ellice bridge and a signal gun be fired just before the race when the man on the bridge would stop any steamers going up.

On motion of Mr. R. Ward it was decided to authorize the secretary to write to Admiral Hotham and Colonel Holmes, accepting their offers of assistance with thanks.

Mr. B. Boggs was appointed honorary secretary and empowered to engage an assistant.

Some discussion arose as to how many days should be celebrated. It was finally decided to celebrate Monday the 23rd, and Tuesday the 24th, the majority present being of opinion that three days was too long.

The Mayor mentioned that last year the celebration had cost $4500, about $1500 being paid by the city.

Hon. J. H. Turner did not think that much could be collected this year, and he thought the city should give $2500 as a starter.

The Mayor mentioned that of course he could not say how much the aldermen would give.

The following committees were appointed:

Finance—Hon. J. H. Turner, Mr. Carter, the mayor and aldermen, Dr. Milne, Ex-Mayor Grant, Ex-Alderman Renouf, Charles Jenkinson Henry Saunders, with power to add to their numbers.

On motion of Dr. Hanington, Hon. Mr. Turner was appointed a committee on illumination, with power to appoint his own committee.

Regatta—Officers of the fleet, R. Broderick, Dr. Hanington, James Seeley, Beaumont Boggs, Capt. Clark, D. Sullivan, R. Jones, E. Crow Baker, W. Snyder, T. C. Jones and J. C. Scott.

Sports and games to consist only of bicycle races, lacrosse, baseball and athletic exhibition—Jno. Braden, Wm. Lorimer, T. H. Baker, Robert Chipchase, E. C. Smith, J. H. Close, T. Edwards, A. G. McCandless, Sir Robert Arbuthnot, Lieut. Ethelson, Lieut. B. Scott, A. M. Leech, Foster McGurn, W. G. McKenzie, F. A. Jackson, W. Christie, W. H. Cullen, T. W. Edwards, C. W. Minor, C. W. Godson, W. Franklin, S. Lowe.

Printing committee—A. McCandless, W. Piper, Ald. Hall, Ald. Baker, C. H. Gibbons, Chas. Hayward, Dr. Verrinder, Robt. Mitchell.

Band committee—A. Menut, J. Seely, Wm. Jenson, T. B. Hall, C. A. Lombard, R. Mitchell, W. H. Ellis, Fred Sherborne.

Reception committee — Mayor and city council, Foster McGurn, T. H. Baker, W. Christie, J. H. Seely, Wm. Dalby, C. E. Redfern, R. Jones, Dr. Jones, Hon. J. H. Turner, Thomas Burns, C. A. Goffin, Robert McIntosh, Dr. Milne, ex-Mayor Grant, ex-Ald. Holland, H. P. Johnson, W. Jeffrey, F. Jackson, J. E. Wilson, F. Gouge, W. Snyder, Capt. Smallfield, N. Shakespeare, Capt. Wooley, D. Doren.

Mr. Chas. Kent was unanimously chosen treasurer, and it was decided to hold the regatta on the 24th and the illumination the same evening.

The printing committee was authorized to get out preliminary posters to advertise the celebration in outside cities.

The general committee will meet again next Monday evening, and the regatta committee will meet on Friday evening.

A Forgery of Indian Stamps.

The report of the Indian postmaster-general for the past year contains an account of the manner in which a large number of stamps of the value of one rupee each were forged. The forger was a Poona Brahmin, who was formerly in the service of the Trigonometrical Survey. He had prepared a die of the one-rupee stamp in white stone, which was set in wood, and 39 of these dies had been made from time to time before he succeeded in producing a sufficiently aggregate representation of the original stamp. This die was thoroughly cleaned with kokam, or mangosteen, and then covered with an oily substance or ink, of the color of the one-rupee stamp, which was carefully spread over it with the finger. A piece of paper was then placed on the die, and rubbed with a shell, and on being removed was found to bear a wonderfully close representation of the genuine stamp. The stamp so produced was then placed with its face down on a piece of metal, moistened with water, and had a water-mark die, that had been separately prepared, gently hammered upon it. It was afterwards put upon a small square of tin, of the same size as the genuine stamp, marked with the correct number of holes for the purpose of perforation, and carefully perforated with a small needle-like instrument. The whole process occupied about ten minutes. The number of counterfeit stamps successfully passed by the forger and his accomplices was about 1000. The forger and his chief accomplice, a stamp vendor, were prosecuted in the Bombay High Court, and sentenced to ten years' transportation each. A few of of the counterfeit stamps found their way into the Bombay post office through the complicity of some of the clerks, and one of these committed suicide when the forger was arrested. A new one-rupee stamp, combining two colors, was in consequence introduced.

PORT ANGELES NOTES.

Greenleaf Hotel Burned — Survey of the Harbor.

The Greenleaf Hotel at Port Angeles was burned to the ground on Sunday afternoon. The fire started in the kitchen. Mr. Rockman, the proprietor, is out of the city, unfortunately. There was an entire lack of water, owing to a break in a main water pipe, which happened about 2 o'clock. The fire company, aided by citizens, did noble work in saving the contents of the building. The county offices were located in the building, but everything was saved. At one time it looked as though Major R. R. Harding's residence would also burn, but it was saved through the heroic efforts of the citizens. The Greenleaf cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. Insurance unknown.

Work was begun last week on the official government survey of Port Angeles harbor. Capt. J. J. Gilbert of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, arrived in the city on Tuesday, with his assistants and the necessary paraphernalia for his work. Several men will be employed in the service and several weeks' time will be consumed. It is the duty of the Geodetic corps to locate the outer harbor or deep water line, at which point the jurisdiction of the general government ceases and that of the state begins. The work is preparatory to the work of the state harbor line and tide land commissions which will come later.

A Mr. Hutton, who is an old and practised miner and who has been prospecting in the mountains back of Angeles, exhibited a sample of ore on Thursday that made spectators' eyes stand out. It was a sample about the size of an egg from which pure wire gold protuded at every pore. Mr. Rodman would not, of course, disclose the location from which he obtained the sample but stated that it was "not far" from Angeles.

Dr. W. T. Strother, who came to Angeles some months ago from Port Crescent, has determined to locate for practice in Victoria, and will leave in a few days for his new field of labor.

The partnership existing between C. E. Mallette and L. H. Jenns, real estate brokers, has been dissolved.

Old Nursery Favorites.

There was Tom, the Son of the Piper,
Jack Sprat, and Merry King Cole,
And the Three Wise Men of Gotham,
Who went to sea in a bowl;
The woman who rode on a broomstick,
And swept the cobwebbed sky,
And the boy who sat in the corner,
Eating his Christmas pie.

These were some of the old favorites, but they have been supplanted by the "Pansy" and Chatterbox" stories, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," and "Five Little Peppers." The Old fashioned pill and physics have been superseded, and wisely, too, by Pierce's Purgative Pellets, mild, harmless and effective cathartic. They are pleasant to take—so gentle in their action that the most delicate child can take them, yet so effective that they will cure the most obstinate cases of constipation, stomach, liver and bowel troubles. They should be in every nursery. As a gentle laxative, only one for a dose. tu-th&w

A Big Sale Reported.

HELENA, Mont., April 24.—The sale of the Spram Bros.' sapphire fields to the Sapphire and Ruby Company of Montana has been consummated. A cable was received from London yesterday to place the deeds to the English company on record, and to turn the property over to A. B. Wood, general manager and its representative in Helena. The price agreed upon is £400,000, or $2,000,000, one-half in cash and the balance in paid up shares. The company is stocked for £450,400, and 225,000 shares have been taken, besides 400 founders' shares. The property originally figured in the negotiations comprised about 4000 acres, about one-half of what the consummated deal includes, making a total of 8000 acres on both sides of the Missouri river and extending a distance of 12 or 15 miles. The founders of the company comprise some of the most prominent men in England. Of the nobility there are a number who are quite close to the Queen, namely, the Marquis of Lorne, Sir Francis Knollys, the Prince of Wales' business man, the English ambassador to St. Petersburg, Sir Robert Morier, the Marquis of Breadalbane, deputy governor of the Commercial Bank of Scotland, and the Duke of Portland, the third richest man in England.

ZOPYRUS.

An Old Persian Nobleman.

Zopyrus was a nobleman of Persia, who, when Darius had long besieged Babylon in vain, maimed himself by cutting off his nose and ears, and fled to the Babylonians; they, being moved with pity, and taking him to bear a deadly hatred to the king, made him their general; and he, taking a convenient time, delivered the city to his master, who gratefully said, "he would rather have Zopyrus whole, than take twenty Babylons."

Strange it is, but all too true, that even at the present time we have men and women around us who prefer wealth, name, position and rank to strong and rugged health. How can a sane mortal enjoy the wealth and luxuries of this world, when he or she is enchained with disease and suffering? Riches possessed by such individuals seem to mock their possessers owing to their incapacity, weakness and misery. Health, without lands and gold, is still wealth—it is true life, peace and contentment

Could every wealthy sufferer realize the fact that weakness, nervousness, sleeplessness, morbidness, moroseness, dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism and bad blood can be swept away by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, they would not hesitate a moment about using it. With many, who doubt, the reason seems to be that the remedy is too simple—the treatment is not complicated enough, and the cost too insignificant. They look for something more costly and elaborate. This, of course, can be had by placing themselves under the long-suffering care of some physicians. The end of such a course, what does it mean? Often, very often it means failure and death. Paine's Celery Compound is simple, but it is effective—strong—powerful—mighty to cure.

There is no royal road to health for the wealthy; they must submit to the same agent that works with such great power on their poorer brethren.

It is with pleasure that we note the fact, that our best and wealthiest people are now making Paine's Celery Compound a family medicine. It has been found honest, and worthy of confidence as a true life sestorer.

LOST IN MAMMOTH CAVE.

The Adventure of two Soldiers in a Kentucky "Hole in the Ground"

Captain Poe, of Cincinnati, with his troop was sent north from Bowling Green and ordered to remain "at or near Cave City till further orders."

As every one should know, the limestone region of southern Kentucky is honeycombed with caves, and during the late war these caves were frequently the hiding places of friend and foe.

Mammoth cave, one of the natural wonders of the modern world, is only an hour's drive from the railroad at Cave City, and Captain Poe, who had long been anxious to see this famous "hole in the ground," decided to avail himself of his proximity to it to pay it a visit.

"I will go over early in the morning," he said to First Lieutenant Pratt, who was to remain back in command of the troop, "and I'll be back before sundown."

"There are no guides at the cave now, so you must be careful," said Lieutenant Pratt.

"Oh, I'll not go in very far. I know all the eccentricities of the place, and will go in but a short distance. Mike Finn, my orderly, is the only man I'll take along; he has been through Diamond cave and knows all about such places," said the captain confidently.

The next morning he and Orderly Finn rode off for the cave, carrying with them, in addition to lights and food, their arms, for John Morgan was at that time showing a most pernicious activity along the line of the Louisville and Nashville road.

On reaching the entrance to the cave Captain Poe and his man dismounted and concealed their horses in the woods some distance away. Then they cut poles on which to fasten the candles they had brought with them and started in, confident they were about to enjoy one day's peace.

A man who has climbed one great mountain is certainly better qualified to climb another great mountain than a man who has had no such experience, but in the matter of caves former experience counts for little. It is impossible to get a substitute for a good local guide, but evidently Captain Poe and Mike Finn were not of this opinion.

The provisions and lights were divided, candles were fastened to the poles, and then the two men left the warm sunlight and disappeared within the narrow and unpromising portal that gives access to halls vaster and grander than were ever carved by human hands.

THE RESCUE.

"We can do a few miles of the cave by noon," said the captain as they went down; "then we'll get lunch and return in time to get back to camp before sunset."

"Faith, that'll be as aisy as fallin off a log," said Mike Finn. "Shure I was down in Diamond cave for more'n six hours, wid on'y a nigger fur a guide, and I knew it that well before I came out that I'd not be skart to go through from ind to ind blindfolded. Thim caves is like iv'rythin else—it's all in bein used to their ways."

This confidence encouraged the captain greatly, for as the cold air beat into his face and he saw the light of his torch forcing a thin pathway through the awful blackness that rose before him like a wall, his curiosity was not so keen nor his confidence in himself so great as when he started out that morning.

They passed the anteroom, with its smoked walls and its floor littered with the debris of a thousand convivial parties who had preceded them in the good old days before the war.

Then they started down the grand avenue, but before doing so Captain Poe, who was noted in the army for his prudence and forethought, tied the end of a big ball of wrapping twine to a rock and paid it out as he went on.

"It was by just such a contrivance as that string," he replied to Mike Finn, "that the mysteries and intricate convolutions of the famous Labyrinth of Crete were discovered."

"You don't tell me so, sor," cried Mike, with all the earnestness of a man just in receipt of a thrilling item of news.

Down the grand avenue the black shadows fled from their front to settle behind them in a blacker wall.

The fall of their feet woke up the sleeping echoes. Bats dropped from the roof and their cold, clammy wings brushed the bronzed faces of the troopers and made them pallid.

On to the Great Hall, whose ceiling was lifted too high to be reached by the light of their torches, save where here and there from the drooping ends of snowy stalactites the light flashed back as if refracted into prismatic lines by mighty diamonds.

On again to the Bridal Chamber, the ball of twine growing less in size, but the trail still well defined by fragments of exhausted torches and an occasional empty bottle.

Wonder banished anxiety from the hearts of captain and man, and they spoke in whispers, as if afraid to wake up the sleeping genius of this sunless palace.

They crept through Fat Man's Misery, of which the captain had often heard; then they rested their torches against a rock, and as it was high noon in the upper world they ate their lunch, ate everything—for as they were going back immediately it would be foolish to burden themselves with what was left.

At length they reached the Star Chamber, at least that was what the captain called it, and here they came literally to "the end of their rope."

The string was fastened to a rock in a place which they agreed they could find very easily and then they started in to explore this wonderful chamber. At length the captain looked at his watch.

"Three o'clock, Finn!" he exclaimed. "By Jove, we must be getting back or night will catch us!"

"Sure it's always and forever and a day night down here," said Mike.

But now to find the string. They searched and they searched and they searched without success, till there were only two candles left. Then filled with desperation and horror they started down an avenue that "looked as if it might lead in the right direction."

Up a mountain of sharp rocks they clambered; then down the other side, till they came to a sudden halt and drew back with their hair on end, for the awful black depths of the bottomless pit yawned before them.

At this juncture the last quarter inch of the last candle fell and was extinguished.

"May all the saints protect us, captain dear!" groaned Mike Finn, "for it's me and you is in a devil of a box!"

Our language was constructed in a world where there is a great deal of light, and so it has no terms at all adequate to describe the impenetrable blackness in which these two men found themselves.

They were away from the world; buried in a Stygian darkness far down in the bowels of the earth, and there was no guide within reach that their companions could send to their rescue.

The captain discharged his pistol and the caves rang with the deafening sound, and the echoes rolled down through far away caves, like the ceaseless discharges of receding artillery, till swallowed up in profound, far away depths.

The men were afraid to move, for a stone, loosened by their advance, had leaped into the bottomless pit, and as no sound came back they reasoned that it must be still falling, and they did not care to risk themselves near the awful edge.

No pen could give a fair picture of the long, black hours that followed. The captain's watch ran down. Hunger and thirst tortured them. Then came an irresistible yearning for sleep, and as they closed their heavy lids they shook hands like men who are never to wake again.

But fifty-eight hours after the last light went out they did wake up to find torches flashing in their faces and Lieutenant Pratt and a colored man who "knew the cave" leaning over them.

They were fed and led out to the light, and Mike Finn echoed the captain's sentiments when he said:

"Be jabers, ye'll niver foind me in a hole in the ground agin—till I'm buried for good!"

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World, Here and Elsewhere.

THE OAR.

Several weeks ago a Vancouver paper stated that the oarsmen of that city would not come to Victoria on the 24th as the James Bay club was not in the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen. As was announced in last evening's TIMES the club has now been admitted to that association but not through any fault of a certain class of Vancouverites who, says a gentleman writing to a Victorian from the east, "used every effort to try and prevent the James Bay club from being elected to membership." This is about the meanest thing that could be perpetrated as there is no reason for it and as all know membership in the association tends to fair races. The only conclusion to be arrived at is that the men who protested against the James Bays' election are jealous of the Bays' superiority in rowing for, as is well known, the Victorians simply wiped out everything in the province last year, in all kinds of races, at Victoria, Vancouver and Westminster. Some people cannot stand being fairly and squarely beaten.

LACROSSE.

The Victoria Lacrosse Club received another useful member last evening, when Mr. C. Blaine, of Burk Falls, Ont., arrived here to make a new home. He played several seasons with the Orillia Club, the champions of Northern Ontario. Mr. Blaine makes the fourth Orillia man now in Victoria, Messrs. R. Frost and D. and G. Tudhope having arrived several weeks ago.

At the regular practice of the Victoria Lacrosse Club yesterday evening there were thirty players on the field, and some lively work was done. Both by the old and young material excellent playing was done.

THE TURF.

Knight's Ha-Ha will trot half-a-mile at the Victoria Jockey Club's track on Saturday afternoon. He is a flyer, and driven by his owner will give a pretty exhibition.

The Fate of a Princess.

BERLIN, April 24.—The semi-official announcement of the engagement of the Princess Marguerite, youngest sister of the Emperor, to Prince William of Luxemburg, is received with little approval in court circles here. Prince William is probably the most dissolute man of his age in the continental court. During the short periods he has passed in Luxemburg recently he has disgraced himself with the most notorious actress in the place and has piled up debts that he will not pay, and which his father, the Grand Duke Adolph, with a civil list of but 200,000 francs, cannot pay.

Prince William, moreover, has a mania for gambling, and now lives at Monaco so that he may indulge in his passion constantly. He is the companion of disreputable women and drinks to excess. To marry the Princess Marguerite to such a man, the people say, is to sacrifice her to the Emperor's ambition.

The Emperor is said to be anxious to get a hold on Luxemburg, so that he might eventually annex it and thus add materially to the strategic strength of Germany's western frontier. The present time he regards as auspicious for an opening wedge, as the whole land is in a revolutionary turmoil, and the Grand Duke and Prince are looking for a strong hand to steady their throne.

The revolt is especially directed against the Prince, whose reckless life at Manaco has moved the citizens to protest, not only against the Grand Duke's regime but also against the Prince's succession to the throne, and to call for a republic. Even the army of 300,000 men and nine officers is reported to-day to be seriously disaffected and many of the soldiers have deserted. Under these circumstances the marriage of a Hohenzollern princess into the reigning house is regarded with favor by monarchial Luxemburg, although they feel that it means eventually absorption by Germany.

ARE THE LARGEST COAL PRODUCERS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

THE NANAIMO COAL (Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes). | THE SOUTH FIELD COAL (Steam Fuel).

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL
(House and Steam Coal) are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, high Illuminating Power, unequalled by any other bituminous Gas Coal the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL, which was introduced early the present year, has already become a favorite fuel domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay where ships of the largest tonnage loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.

A Drunkard's Double Crime.

TACOMA, April 24.—Mrs. Mortimer Lewis, who was shot through the lung Friday night by her husband at Fernhill, died to-night. The couple unfortunately did not live happily together. He was a drunkard, and his wife had him bound over recently to keep the peace. Swearing to be avenged, he went home Friday night, shot her through the lungs and then, turning the weapon on himself, blew out his brains. They have resided for about five years in Tacoma.

Collecting Data on Seals.

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—Special Agent J. F. Evans, of the treasury department, is in the city collecting data in the sealing industry for the use of the government in the pending negotiations on the Behring Sea controversy. Mr. Evans to-day took the testimony of Colonel H. G. Otis, editor of the Times, who during 1879-81 was special treasury agent in charge of the seal islands.

No Damages for a Trust.

ELMIRA, N.Y., April 24.—The Clipper Chilled Plow Company of this city, has obtained an injunction restraining the National Harrow Company suing for damages by claiming an infringement of its patents by the plow company. The injunction is granted on the ground that the National Harrow Company is a trust.

Plunged From a Bridge.
